

Grand Trunk Pacific Will Fulfil Its Promise

CROP OF 1907 WILL MOVE OVER THE G. T. P. RAILS

C. M. Hays and F. W. Morse Complete Tour of Inspection From Lake Superior to Edmonton--Grading Yards Will Commence Here as Authority is Given

Roadbed Ready For Irons Next Spring

Eighty per cent. of Grading Already Done East of Saskatoon and Thirty per cent. West

"Yes, sir; the Grand Trunk Pacific will fulfil its promise. The Grand Trunk Pacific always fulfils its promises. We will move our share of the crop of 1907 over the rails of the Grand Trunk Pacific and by that time the road will be completed right into the city of Edmonton. I do not want to say that the road will be completed into this city on the 1st of August, 1907. I do not say that it will not, mind you, but I do not care to state specifically that it will, or to set any certain date. Mr. Morse and I have been very careful not to name any certain day on which the road will be completed into your city. I do not think that it is fair to a railroad man to expect him to say that at 10.30 o'clock on August 1st, for instance, the first train will arrive in the city. But I do say that we will be here in time to move the crop of 1907. That was the purpose of our present trip, and I believe that we can report that everything is satisfactory."

These were the words of Charles M. Hays this morning and they should effectually dispel any doubt as to whether the big transcontinental will reach the city at the time predicted a year ago.

The officials of the Grand Trunk Pacific arrived in the city last night by the oldest known method of transcontinental transportation, the prairie schooner after a trip of 1,200 miles over the route of the new road from Fort William to Edmonton.

The private car Canada, the official travelling headquarters of the Grand Trunk Pacific management has been lying in the C.N.R. yards for a week awaiting their arrival. This morning the meanwhile head office of the company is in Edmonton and the officials are doing business in the Capital of Alberta with their private car as a residence, office, reception room and board room.

In the party there are C. M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific, F. W. Morse, vice-president and general manager; B. B. Killbuck, chief engineer and Henry Phillips, secretary of the company, besides Messrs. McNichol and Gallaway, private secretaries to the president and vice-president.

The officials were at home to the reporter when he called. They all show the effect of the prairie air, especially Henry Phillips who is sturboned a regular maroon color and F. W. Morse who looks as swarthy as a cow-puncher.

Mr. Hays talked freely and entertainingly of their long trip. Giving dates of the western end, from Portage to Winnipeg he said that they left Portage on September 2nd with a couple of teams, tents, a camp cook and the party accompanied by Mr. McMillan of the McMillan-McDonald company, who have the contract for the first stretch of road. Riding, driving and walking, they covered the McMillan-McDonald section in about ten days, when they were met at a point east of Saskatoon, where the Canadian-White company contract commences, where a Canadian-White representative joined them and came through to the Foley-Larsen contract. At the Battle river Mr. Van Aradell met them and came over the last stretch of road with them, reaching here last night and covering a total distance of 735 miles in just 18 days, of which one day, the 17th was spent in Saskatoon.

Mr. Hays said that this was his first rail trip over the prairies, he had crossed them many times before but this was the first time that he had ever made the trip in a way that gave any clear idea of the grandeur and magnificent possibilities of the country between here and Winnipeg. Along the way they stopped in engineering and construction camps, at cattle ranches and at settlers' shacks, wherever meal time found them, and where there was no camp or shack on the horizon they had their luncheon a la Arkansas style.

"I was greatly struck," said Mr. Hays, by the confidence that is placed in the Grand Trunk getting through on time. We talked to settlers all along the right-of-way. Everywhere we found them putting up temporary houses, sometimes sod, sometimes small board structures, but always saying that they were merely to last until the railway came. Many of them we found to be settlers from other parts of Canada and from United States who were well to do but who could not spare the time to haul lumber long distances. With these people the company is bound to keep faith."

"What's your choice of the country you saw on your trip?" Mr. Hays was asked.

The railroad president did not hesitate a moment to reply. "I do not think that Manitoba has anything that can beat the country between here and Saskatoon. I believe that the Edmonton country, I mean the Alberta prairies approaching Edmonton, is as fine a farming country as there is in the world."

Mr. Hays, when asked what route the railway was going to take to the west, said that it would probably be known in the near future. He believed that the exploratory surveys of the mountain passes were the most thorough ever undertaken by any mountain railway in America. When the surveys come in this fall the data will be complete and an announcement may be expected in the near future.

Referring to Edmonton he said, "It is two years since I have been here and the changes are wonderful. This is going to be a great city."

Henry Phillips, who has the statistical information of the big road on tap at all times, stated that from Portage LaPrairie to Saskatoon, 80 per cent. of the grading had already been done. From Saskatoon to Edmonton a little over 30 per cent. has been completed. The two heaviest jobs on the road are the crossing of the Assiniboine, north of Fort Ellis, and the crossing of the Battle River on the Foley-Larsen contract. Labor has been scarce, especially during harvest time, when a large number of men went to Manitoba to work in the wheat fields, as might have been expected, but they are coming back now and everything is going forward at record-breaking speed. He would not hazard a guess as to just how many men and teams were actually at work, but he was sure of one thing, that the contractors had as many working as they could get. The company had steel and tracklay-

The Strike Situation.

The strike situation remains today practically unchanged. The laborers are still out and announce their intention of staying out unless their demands are met. None of the other unions have given notice of action and the builders appear to be standing pat.

President Petrie, of the Laborers' Union, said this afternoon: "There is no change in the situation today. The builders and contractors know our terms, $2.25 for 8 hours. They will agree to pay us $2.50 for 9 hours but that is contrary to the policy and constitution of the union. It is not for money we are striking. It is for policy and principle."

When asked regarding the action of the laborers and strikers if the contractors should close down building of the union said, "That does not frighten or concern us. We can place every man that is idle in the city in a few days in positions where they will earn $35 a month and their board. We have not been asleep. We have read the newspapers and know of the scarcity of men for harvesting and railway work. The builders do not want to recognize the union."

A member of the Builders' Exchange expressed the opinion unofficially that the trouble would soon be over.

More Remains Found in the Ruins of the Gilmour Hotel.

(Bulletin Special.)

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—Harry C. Walker, of Malakoff, Gloucester county, N. J., who was injured through jumping from the Gilmour hotel during the fire, died at Rideau street hospital last night. Walker had both legs broken and was burned about the arms. Charred remains, supposed to be those of Lizzie O'Neill, the waitress, were found yesterday. Absolute identification is impossible. The remains of Miss Loveday have also been found. They were identified from the fact that she had two sets of upper and lower teeth. Searching parties are still at work.

Portions of a third body was found today in the ruins of the Gilmour hotel but identification is impossible. Tomorrow a careful medical examination will be made to see whether the remains which comprise the heart, kidneys and other pieces of human flesh belong to a man or woman. It is almost certain that Mrs. Beckett, milliner, was in the hotel at the time of the fire and they may be her remains but that is mere conjecture. Mrs. Pearce, superintendent of the Barnardo Home at Peterboro and Miss Gregg, a lady visitor identified the remains of Miss Loveday and have taken them to Peterboro to be buried in a plot belonging to the Barnardo Home. The remains of Lizzie O'Neill, the waitress, were claimed by her relatives today and will be buried tomorrow. The finding of the body today makes four deaths so far as known. Walker who died in the hospital, and the three remains taken from the debris.

British Passenger Train Leaves Rails and Jumps Over a Bridge

(Bulletin Special.)

London, Sept. 20.—The crowded "Scotch express" on the Great Northern leaving London last night was wrecked outside of Grantham at midnight. Five bodies have been taken from the wreck and the loss of life is believed to be larger. The train should have stopped at Grantham but failed to do so. Shortly after passing the station the train left the rails and jumped a bridge. The engine and several coaches were dashed over an embankment. The engine turned turtle and several coaches immediately took fire. There are many passengers beneath the debris. Of ten extricated five have died. The number of lives lost is not known but it is believed to be large. Many were injured. At last accounts the coaches were still blazing and the fire brigade had been called out. The dead and injured have not as yet been identified. At the spot where the wreck occurred there is a curve and it is supposed that the brakes failed to work. At five o'clock this morning it was officially stated that there are ten killed and 16 injured.

May Compromise

First Step Towards Negotiating the Winnipeg Labor Trouble.

(Bulletin Special.)

Winnipeg, Sept. 20.—The first step toward the settlement of the industrial strike was taken yesterday afternoon when the committee was selected from the builders' exchange to try and meet the central labor committee. The exchange had a stormy meeting, the plumbers section holding to the principle that they had been unfairly dealt with by the men. However, a give and take principle will probably be worked out and submitted to the men. The master plumbers are willing to concede certain points regarding wages, but refuse the other points claimed by the men. It is hoped that the masons, bricklayers and carpenters may be induced to return to work while the negotiations are in progress. The first joint meeting will probably be held in the morning.

Dr. Sutherland Will no Longer Be Missionary Secretary

(Bulletin Special.)

Montreal, Sept. 19.—At today's session of the general conference N. W. Rowell, in moving the adoption of the report of the missionary committee and making to the motion, said that the field should be divided and a general secretary and treasurer appointed so as to lighten the labor of the present secretary. He stated that it was the expectation of the conference that at least 80,000 settlers would come into the west during the next four years. Dr. Sutherland, present general secretary of missions, in reply, stated that in view of the feeling of the conference that two secretaries were necessary he felt he could no longer sustain the position he had held for the past thirty years and would ask the conference to allow him to retire.

Hong Kong, Sept. 20.—It is now estimated that some 5000 persons lost their lives in the recent typhoon. Reports are hourly increasing the mortality. The J. C. P. R. steamer Montague, which was driven ashore in the harbor here, has been refloated.

(Bulletin Special)
Hong Kong, Sept. 20.—The typhoon which swept this port yesterday, destroying a great number of vessels and causing much loss of life, was of a local nature. It came suddenly and without warning. The observatory had predicted moderate winds and rain an hour after gun signal had been fired the storm was at its height. It lasted two hours. Most of the damage done was wrought on Dowlin Peninsula. The loss is estimated at several million dollars. Over one thousand sampans and junks are missing from Hong Kong alone. Wharves were swept away and houses collapsed.

(Bulletin Special)
Hong Kong, Sept. 20.—The military quarters and temporary buildings were demolished, and the men are quartered in casemates of the forts. Nineteen deep-sea junks were washed on Stone Cutter's Island. A tramp vessel collided with the French torpedo boat destroyer Froide and it is reported that twenty of the crew of the latter were killed. The French destroyer Franciscus is ashore. Installed Cutters

Former Edmonton Man Put in System for Saskatchewan Town

A Bulletin representative had an interesting chat yesterday with N. B. Peck, formerly inspector of the Edmonton waterworks construction. Mr. Peck has lately returned from Indian Head where he had the contract for installing a complete sewerage system in that town. Early in the season he and R. R. Whiteman entered into partnership as Whiteman and Peck, contractors, and were successful in obtaining contracts from Saskatoon and Indian Head for the installation of sewerage systems. Mr. Whiteman took control of the Saskatoon contract and Mr. Peck the Indian Head. Through adverse conditions Mr. Whiteman threw up his contract and it was completed by the town. Mr. Peck was successful with his and installed a complete system consisting of 17,150 feet of sewer, 39 manholes and 26 catch basins. The contract price was $13,700.

Indian Head has only a population of about 1,800, but an idea of the prosperity of the town may be obtained from the fact that within the past year and a half it has expended very nearly $200,000 in improvements, and has electric lights, sewerage and one of the best water systems in the world. The water source of supply is at Squirrel Hills, about eight miles away. There are a number of large boiling springs of purest water. These have been centralized into a reservoir with a capacity of approximately 2,000,000 gallons and carried by gravitation into the city through a 12-inch pipe. The water has a fall of 196 feet from the reservoir to the city. Mr. Peck thinks the Indian Head district one of the finest in Canada. There are now 13 elevators doing business there.

ALL SAINTS' ORGAN.

The new organ being installed in All Saints' church contains ten manuals and pedals, has fifty six speaking stops, seven couplers, and four combination pedals are placed on the south side of the chancel, the console being in the centre of the choir stalls on the north side. The case is of dark oak, the pipes being colored in crimson, blue and gold.

The action is tubular pneumatic throughout, the blowing being done by a Ross water motor placed in the basement beneath the organ.

The following is the specification:

ing outfits at Portage La Prairie. Not much steel had been laid yet, but by the time work was closed down this fall the gaps would be nearly all closed up and except for some light work, would all be ready for the steel next spring.

It was F. W. Morse's turn next and his catechism dealt with matters closer to home.

"According to the agreement between yourself and the city, the Grand Trunk promised to commence at once laying the track through the city and building whatever spur lines were required. There are people who say that the 'very moment they get the authority to do so,' said Mr. Morse. 'The agreement will have to be ratified by the ratepayers of Edmonton and will then have to be authorized by the railway committee at Ottawa. We will start work the very next day. We are ready to furnish all the spurs that are required and whenever they are required, without delay.'

Regarding the yards and terminals to the north of the city Mr. Morse said that there would be nothing done there this fall: that part of the work would have to stand over until next season.

The party will spend the day in the city and will probably go east tomorrow afternoon, attaching their car to the regular train on the Canadian Northern.

The organ is the first to be installed in Edmonton, with the tubular pneumatic action, which is a departure from the tracker or mechanical action, so commonly used in pipe organs, and which connects the action from the key-board to the pipes by wooden trackers, very susceptible to weather changes. The tubular pneumatic conducts the motion by air pressure through metal tubes to the pipes, which is uninfected by weather changes, thus rendering the action more certain.

ALBERTA LAND TITLES ACT.

Editor of the Bulletin:
I ask for space in your valuable and limited columns to correct a wrongful impression which exists in regard to certificates of title to property under the recent Alberta Land Titles Act (chap. 24, 1906).

Many purchasers are satisfied with the certificate of title in the hands of the vendor and accept it as a perfect title to the land without any further inquiries, which may prove a costly mistake and liable to produce future difficulties.

If you look at Section 43, you will see that every certificate of title granted is subject to 1st. Reservations from the Crown; 2nd. All municipal taxes; 3rd. public easements of right of way; 4th. Leases under three years where there is actual occupation of the land; 5th. Registered decrees, orders or executions affecting the interest of the owner of the land; 6th. Rights of redemption by statute or ordinance vested in any person, body corporate or His Majesty; 7th. Provincial easements acquired by any Act.

While the certificate of title shows such encumbrances as mortgages, executions, mechanics' liens, etc., on the face of it there is nothing in the certificate to show the existence of the implied encumbrances mentioned in Section 43.

A search should be made for the above if the purchaser desires a good and perfect title and avoid future litigation. Thanking you for space, I am, yours truly,

JOHN GALBRAITH.

New Brewery.

Edmonton Brewing Co. Will Erect Large Plant Next Spring.

One of the biggest enterprises in the city today is the Edmonton Brewing company. This business has assumed gigantic proportions in the last year, so much so that the company intend building an establishment on the hill which will cost $350,000.

All the machinery will be of the latest types. The building itself will be up to date in every respect, composed of steel and concrete, and will be under the supervision of Architect Barthell of Chicago. It will be without exception the finest plant in Canada and second to none on the continent. Every vessel will be glass lined and every machine will have its separate electric motor, it being the intention of the company to erect a plant which will be sufficient to meet the prospective demands of both local and outside markets, for at least 8 years. Operations will be commenced early next spring.

Apart from this gigantic enterprise the company have spent an additional $20,000 this year on the present plant, putting in machinery such as is used by all modern breweries in the United States, it being the only plant of its kind in Canada; its principal features in the process of brewing being the collection of natural gas from the beer during the period of fermentation, thus permitting the storage of beer under natural gas pressure instead of air, consequently the beer never comes in contact with the air until poured out by the consumer.

Apart from local trade, the company ship their stock as far south as Red Deer and west as far as Banff. This trade alone will average $15,000 a month; the brewery at present is taxed to its utmost capacity.

The staff includes 40 men under the management of Mr. W. H. Lines. The brewing is attended to by Mr. J. Floyd.

The company are also erecting an elevator of 30,000 bushels capacity for the storage of barley and which will be in operation in the course of a couple of weeks. They have also been obliged to double the capacity of their malt house.

leordia hospital. Mr. Lochhead is one man of the C.N.R. was unable to leave for the Landing today as the engi-ners have not arrived.

—The new pipe organ has been installed in All Saint's church, and will be ready for next Sabbath morning's services. Breckies and Mathews, Toronto, are the makers.

—Dr. Schwabe who has lately come to Edmonton has taken a three years' lease of rooms in the New Crystal block where he will open his dental parlors about October 15th.

—J. Mundy has sold his homestead at Conjuring Creek to local parties who propose quarrying for building purposes a fine grey sandstone found on the property.

—The German Lutheran church on the corner of Nelson and Third street north of the C.N.R. tracks, with Rev.
Mr. Luskey, pastor, will be opened and dedicated on Sunday, Oct. 1st.

—The annual Sabbath school services of the Presbyterian church will be held in the First Presbyterian church next Sabbath at 3 p.m. This is the annual children's day that is observed throughout the whole Dominion.

—Taylor and Bouchier, the contractors for the large trunk sewer, are moving the big traction dredge from the east end where it has been in operation for a few weeks back to Mackenzie avenue and will begin excavating along Mackenzie from First street to Fifth street.

—The Saskatchewan River which much surprised the oldest resident of Edmonton last week by rising to high water mark has so subsided that large stretches of gravel are visible on both sides of the stream. The river was never known to rise a second time so late in the season.

—A. W. Cameron, proprietor of the Empire Theatre, began operations on a new theatre today. The site is west of the Hudson's Bay corner on Jasper avenue. The building will be 48 150 two storeys high, with a stage 22x48 full size, and large enough to accommodate the largest companies. The theatre will be opened on October 11th and 12th by a specially engaged company.

—Another team ran away yesterday evening. Every day now we are wont to ask what runaway there is, unless we miss one. This time it was a farmer's team that ran west along Jasper.
As they passed Gallagher-Hall's shop a big day team wheeled around and started after them. Geo. Moore ran out of the shop and jumped on his dray, but was thrown off. The dray team turned down McDougall and were stopped at the Grandview. Runaways appear to be coming infectious among among our city teams.

—The Canadian Pacific Railway announces a rate of single fare to Halifax and return on account of Dominion Exhibition to be held in that city September 21st to October 5th. Tickets will be on sale September 15 to 19 inclusive, good for return until October 14. Tickets may be routed via lakes in both directions or via Port Arthur rail route in each direction, diverse routes not being given.

—Mr. Bruce Haining, representative of the Cranbrook Lumber company one of the largest in B.C. has been in the city for a few days. He says the lumber business was never in a more flourishing condition than at the present. He predicts another advance before the opening of the building season next spring. Most of the mills have cut their entire stock and the probabilities are that a small log cut will be made this year, owing to the scarcity of labor and high wages. Mr.
Haining left last night for a trip along the C.N.R. towers.

—Albertan—When the Winnipeg Tribune speaks slightly of the aspirations of Edmonton and Calgary to be represented in the larger leagues, the Tribune is not in possession of all the facts. Edmonton and Calgary had teams just about as good as the Maroons, as the recent games show.
The salary lists of Edmonton and Calgary were nearly as large if not as large as that of the Winnipeg team and as large as some of the Northwestern Copper Country league. The travelling expenses per game were large-er for the Alberta teams than for the Northern League and Edmonton were able to play only about half the time neither team quit the season yet.

—It was rumored on the street at noon that a serious fire had occurred in Strathcona this forenoon. The Strathcona fire hall reported that no fire had taken place.

—G. H. Balfour, general manager of the Union Bank of Canada, arrived in the city last evening and is a guest at the Alberta. After looking over matters here he goes to Fort Saskatchewan.

—Two cars of boots and shoes have arrived for the Ames Holden Co. The contract for their warehouse should have been completed some time ago, and now since the strike has occurred completion is further postponed, which puts the company in the awkward position of having goods and no place to put them.

—Albertan: All union carpenters and some who are not members of the union went on strike yesterday morning. A few non-union men went to work. During the day a number of contractors, for the most part small contractors, signed the contract. A number of men were given permits to work. In all about forty were given such permits. The important incident yesterday was the proposition submitted by the independent contractors.
These are contractors who are not associated with the builders' exchange.
This will be considered at a joint meeting of the two unions this morning.

—Col. E. B. Edwards, K.C., has lately added a novel and interesting piece of furniture to his law office equipment. It is an Edison business phonograph, fitted up with a recorder and reproducer. These machines are coming into general use in the large business houses in the east and United States. Whenever Mr.
Edwards wishes to give a letter he puts a blank cylinder on the machine and talks into a recorder which makes an impression on the cylinder. A number of letters can be dictated in rapid succession, and a record kept upon a correspondence sheet which tells the exact position on the record and the number of it. Then the stenographer comes along and by placing auditory tubes to his ears, is able to hear the words spoken into the machine reproduced as perfectly as by the human voice.

AVOID THE DANGER

It has been suggested that the city council might be asked to intervene in the laborers' strike and arbitrate the disagreement. The council should politely but decisively decline any such invitation. If the aldermen or a number of them see fit to act as individuals in the capacity of arbitrators, it is of course purely their own affair, but the council as a council should decline to accept a position which would make the city the judge of the wages to be paid or the number of hours to be worked per day. For the work which the city requires done the full current wages should be paid for the number of hours commonly accepted as a day's work, but it is no part of the business of the city to fix either the wages or the length of the day for the community. These are, and should be matters of agreement between the employers and the workers of the city, as determined by the industrial conditions. The present disagreement is between the employers and the workmen, and in it the city has and should have a purely passive part. To make the city in the person of the council, an arbitrary judge of the present disagreement would mean that it must also assume the position of dictator in similar disagreements in the future. This in turn would make the city councils of the future the slaves of whichever happened to be the stronger element in the industrial disagreements of the hour. Under such circumstances support in civic elections would be expected to bring its reward by conduct at the council board, and the elections would result not in the choice of men distinguished by their ability to promote the general interests of the city as a whole, but of men pledged or inclined to favor the interests of one class of citizens as against the interests of another. With councils so composed, united action along broad lines of civic advancement would be impossible, and, under the leadership of the "boss" or the "ring," the conduct of civic affairs would degenerate into the promotion of the interests of the predominant class. From such prospect public minded citizens recoil with horror. By declining to interfere in the present disagreement the council will establish the position of the city council as the impartial servants of all classes of citizens and avoid a course which might make their successors the servants of one class only.

REPORTING RAILROAD WRECKS

The Alzida wreck on the C.P.R. occurred shortly after seven o'clock in the morning. There was a Canadian Pacific Railway station near at hand yet until four o'clock in the afternoon only the barest skeleton of the story was permitted to reach the outside world. Details were simply not obtainable until night and not until the next day's papers did the people at large know who had been killed and injured. Until they were identified it was probably as well to not arouse the apprehension of the thousands who had relatives on the trains by spreading the details of the disaster.

The work of identifying the mangled victims of a railway wreck is always slow but there is no reason to suppose it took twelve hours to find the names of those who perished at Alzida and there is a strong semblance either of neglect on the part of the company or its agents or of a deliberate attempt to withhold the news of the disaster as long as possible. The history of such cases is strongly in favor of the latter conclusion. The stories of wrecks on the C.P.R. are usually unreasonably old when they reach the newspaper readers of the country and that through no fault of the newspapers or their correspondents. In earlier days when travel was slower and there were no rival telegraphic companies in the west these reports were usually veritable ancient history when they got to the press. It is within the memory of a not very aged journalist that the first news received in this city of a fatal wreck on the main line of the C.P.R. west of Winnipeg, was received from travelers who had been on the ill-fated train, and the delay was due neither to the lack of correspondents in the "news centres" nor to the failure of these to forward the news as quickly as obtainable.

As for wrecks in which loss of life is not a feature it appears to be the standing rule of the company to afford no information until the exasperated merchant has consumed both time, money and patience seeking the whereabouts of his missing goods which were destroyed in the smash. The public has a direct and real interest in railway wrecks. In every railway wreck in which lives are lost or property destroyed some person or persons besides the carrying company have direct interest and it should be part of the duty of the company on whose line the wreck occurs to give publicity to the disaster at the earliest possible moment. Reporting disasters to passengers or freight on its lines is not a pleasant or profitable occupation for a railway company. For that reason the company is likely to neglect the duty as long as possible and for that reason also the company should be placed under legal obligation to discharge the duty with suitable penalties for neglecting to do so or for trying to avoid doing so.

CURRENT COMMENT

The Calgary Herald is not pleased to have itself considered the only villain in the community, and by way of diverting attention from the alleged metamorphosis of a certain mortgage form dislates the misfortunes of one Frank Wilson, of Macleod, who was sentenced to two years for extorting $25 and some chickens from an unformed immigrant. In the eyes of the law Wilson's offence was in the manner of procuring the cash, and the chickens, but in the eyes of The Herald his unpardonable sin appears to be that he was a relative of an agent of Dominion lands. Assuming Wilson's guilt and pending a more elegant explanation of certain charges made by The Calgary Albertan we shall claim the privilege of entertaining a shrewd suspicion that the difference between The Herald and Mr. Wilson is that the latter is in jail.

At the council meeting on Tuesday evening it developed that two dwelling houses in which are cases of typhoid fever are owned by the city and are not provided with sewer connections. The city has a compulsory by-law regarding sewer connections and the city executive at present displays an intention of putting this by-law into force. The application of such policy should begin at home. Whether or not the absence of these facilities is in any measure responsible for the fever cases it at least would look unreasonable to force other house owners to incur expense which the city was not willing to undertake in connection with the houses owned by the corporation. If it should be proven that lack of sewer connections has been responsible in whole or in part in creating or aiding the spread of the epidemic the city might have trouble in forcing private citizens to take precautionary measures while itself maintaining a menace.

There is sound sense in this from the Toronto News:—"The struggling clergyman, anxious to feed, clothe and educate his family in a manner befitting his intellectual and moral station, can excite among his parishioners only two feelings—admiration and pity. Unfortunately, the pity is more likely to develop into an unthinking 'mild contempt than into increased subscriptions for pastoral support. We quite agree with Dr. Carman that it is not proper for clergymen to attempt to sit on two stools. Some 'who have tried it in recent years have come to the ground. The work of the ministry is ample to engage any man's attention. But the remedy is a measure with the church rather than with the ministers themselves. The Methodist church is wealthy, her members in the main are prosperous. Let the General Conference issue an address to the membership urging the need of increased clerical stipends, and we believe the response would be more generous than most people anticipate."

The Father of Cardston Passes Away

Charles Ora Card, the father of Cardston, died last week, in Logan, Utah. He was born in 1839 in Allegheny County, New York State. When eight years of age he moved to Michigan with his parents. The family returned to New York State and remained there until 1854 when the family moved to Davis County, Utah, in the Salt Lake Valley. When twenty years of age he went to Logan and founded a settlement of thirty families where he resided until his removal to Canada in 1886.

Since 1886 his biography is the history of Cardston. For many years he was Dominion Lands' agent and was faithful and capable in the discharge of his duties. His death removes the most prominent personage in Southern Alberta. He was a pioneer and pathfinder, a colonizer and a leader. The Cardston Star says:

It was on September 14, 1886 that Charles Ora Card came from Logan, Utah, U.S.A. to explore part of British Columbia and Alberta in search of a locality in which to establish a home for himself and a company of his compatriots, and his selection resulted in the birth of Cardston. Nowhere else so he believed could he find a more fitting place than did he here in Southern Alberta. He camped at the mouth of Less Creek on Oct. 24, 1886, in company with Bishop Isaac Zondel and Elder Jas. W. Hendricks. The richness of the soil, the limitless areas of luxuriously grass-clad plains, the reasonable accessibility to timber and the copious streams of water appealed to his judgment and here he decided to cast his lot. This decision reached, the party returned home to prepare for their removal to the selected land.

The reports they carried across the international line were of the best. Never in all their travels had the little party seen a balmy climate nor a more enticing spot than when they viewed the region wherein Cardston now stands. The hills were clad in emerald green and in the evening as in the morning the Titanic masses of the Rocky Mountain Range lined against the curtain of the sky, took on more glorious tints than nature's painting on a shell. The grand Old Chief Mountain whose summit has never yet been reached by man towered above them as a bulwark of safety and the lofty snow-clad peaks and arched heights seemed grander to the pioneers than an army with banners, while the air was pregnant as with a benediction. The whole scene reminded them of their far-off home and they decided that surely this was the place.

And so another party was formed consisting of Pres. Card, Pres. Thos. E. Ricks of Rexburg, Idaho, Bishop Thomas X. Smith of Logan, Utah, and Elder Niels Mowson of Hyrum, Utah, and on returning here they selected the present site of Cardston for their settlement. President Card choosing for his own use what is now the north half of the present town site. The party at once busied themselves putting in gardens and remained on the ground till May 3rd, when they went back to meet their families, after having left L. S. Allen and nephew who had arrived two days before in charge.

Messrs. John A. Woolf, J. A. Hamner, Bishop George L. Ferrill of Smithfield, Utah, and E. R. Miles with their respective families returned with the pioneers and the company reached here on June 3rd, 1887. Two weeks before however, Johannes Anderson, Samuel Matkin and Thos. R. Leavitt and families had arrived and these with the later comers, however, soon ploughed up the land and put in crops.

President Card and party were met at swimming depth by Sergeant Brimmer of the North West Mounted Police who kindly piloted them across, Mr. Card having two wagons, J. A. Woolf also two wagons and the other three families one each, making seven wagons in all. The Sergeant was exceedingly obliging and told the party that the boys at the settlement were just ripping up the ground for more than a mile. President and Mrs. Card and the other new comers were most cordially welcomed by the neighboring ranchers, especially Mr. Ash, Mr. Barker, Mr. Donovan, Mrs. Shaw, Miss Shaw, (now Mrs. Harper), Mr. Derrance, Sgt. Catter (who was then a rancher), and Corporal Harper who succeeded Sgt. Brimmer in command of the St. Mary's detachment.

President Card arrived in Cardston on June 3rd, and on June 5th, Sunday, the little company held a meeting in a tent 12x24 feet and on the following Sunday, a Sunday school was organized. There were then eight families on the ground with teams, wagons, cattle, and farm implements. In the fall of the year Bishop Daines and J. E. Layne who had come early in the season were joined by their families, and on December 18th, Nells Mowson, Joseph Ricks and John Robertson arrived with their families, while Henry L. Hinman, his son, Lewis, Morgan L. Hinman and O. L. Robinson came in the fall ahead of their respective families. The population of the little community was then about ninety. They built roads into the mountains, constructed a meeting house 26x30 1-2 feet, ten cabins and a dugout, got out fencing and busied themselves in arranging their surroundings for the winter. The meeting house was completed on January 24, 1888 and the people indulged in a grand house-warming having a great time of reveling.

When the town of Cardston was first laid out it comprised only three tiers of blocks, twelve blocks in all each lot seventeen rods square, with four lots to the block.

The first settlers having plowed and planted the ground, raised oats and potatoes, turnips and other vegetables, to sustain themselves the first winter. President Card raising about 100 bushels of oats on a patch of land of about one and one half acres in area, and this two without irrigation. In the establishing of towns and villages adjacent to Cardston, Leavitt, Mountainview, Caldwell, Beazley, Taylorville, Astma and Kimball, he was the prime mover and his was the hand that sketched their boundaries and designated their sites. McGrath and Sterling were also laid out under the direction of C. O. Card and at the dedication of the town of Raymond, Charles Ora Card was present and took a leading part. You can scarcely talk Southern Alberta without finding a place for this name.

Having worked early and late, in season and out of season. Having had the satisfaction of seeing his pioneering efforts and supervisory work result in the establishment of prosperous communities filled with happy families, he returned to his old home in Logan some three years ago. It has always been a deep wish of the people that he would return again and see the development which has taken place in those three years and which is now underway in this town—the town of Cardston.

Last year Canada bonded industries to the extent of $3,688,407. Some outsiders will think the Dominion rather a poor place when industry must be paid to that extent to keep their wheels turning. Others will think Canada a strong country to be able to carry such a load without staggering. It all depends on the point of view.—The Globe.

Mowatt Bros., whose property is situated at 1629-13 near Saskatoon, have placed the first gasoline engine that has been used in Saskatchewan upon their fields to be used for operating a threshing machine. D. Mowatt, proud by heralds the importance of such an event, and, with his brother they have secured the services of Dr. Rau, formerly mining expert and engineer, to take charge of the machine. The engine is a 22-horse power, and is one of the noted Hart-Parr patent.

Constable C. W. McGee of Moose Jaw was arrested on information of the chief of police for allowing two prisoners to escape last December.

F. Synington, barrister, Saskatoon, died in St. Boniface hospital, Regina on the 28th inst., of typhoid fever. He was well known in Saskatchewan and was building up a lucrative practice. He was 27 years old and came from Sarnia to the west.

Saskatoon Phoenix: Yesterday two young men set out on a long ride over the prairie. They were the secretaries of Mr. Frank W. Morse and Mr. Charles M. Hays and both fitted themselves out in true cowboy style, mounted their bronchos and set out on the trail to Edmonton town. The big guns of the G.T.'s were content to drive while the secretaries frisked about in their Mexican saddles. Last night two bronchos were returned to town from Aquila. They were the self same pair that started out with the venturesome secretaries while these two gentlemen arrived at the conclusion that a buggy was good enough for them.

Saskatoon Phoenix: A testimonial fund is being raised to provide a residence for the Rev. Thos. Clarke, of Melfort. Mr. Clarke has been appointed organizer for the Church of England in the Carrot River district, having a general supervision over the churches in 6,000 square miles of territory. He preaches at 26 churches, visiting three each Sunday. Mr. Clarke's experience in this country would make an interesting volume. He came to the west as a clergyman 29 years ago, when the trip could only be made by rail as far as Fisher's Landing, Minnesota, and the traveller had to take steamer to Winnipeg and then depend for transportation on his own legs and the ox-wagons. In this way Mr. Clarke reached Battleford, his walk from Winnipeg occupying 10 weeks, and the whole journey from Liverpool to Battleford over four months.

Winnipeg Free Press: "It is stated on good authority that in connection with the recent acquisition of the Prince Albert branch of the C.P.R. by the C.N.R., the C.P.R. has notified the latter company that it must take over the operation of the branch within thirty days or allow the C.P.R.

reason for this decision on the part of the C.P.R. is that it requires some definite understanding in order to complete its arrangements for next year's work."

Five men, citizens of High River, were arrested and fined $1 and costs by Inspector Duffus, R.N.W.M.P., for filling in an irrigation ditch that runs through the town.

High River will issue $20,000 in debentures for the electric lighting of the town.

A surveying party in charge of Paul Paradis, of the firm of Paradis & Thorold, and George Lang, of Wilson & Lang, engineers, left for Red Deer last Thursday and will proceed from that point to Sullivan lake, 105 miles east of there, where they will commence the cursory survey of an irrigation scheme, which promises to rival the immense scheme now being completed by the C. P. R. Mr. Paradis told a Herald reporter that the estimated cost of the main and lateral canals required for the new enterprise was in the neighborhood of $2,500,000. The funds are being supplied by a syndicate of English capitalists who now own a tract of land 20 by 100 miles in extent, south-east of Sullivan lake. Until they return from the preliminary survey which will occupy about three weeks, Messrs. Paradis and Lang stated they would be unable to give any reliable information regarding the work, but Mr. Paradis ventured the opinion that the head gates of the main canal would be at Content on the Red Deer river. From that point the water will be taken to Sullivan lake, a distance of some sixty miles and distributed from there over the company's lands by means of lateral or subsidiary canals. The horses and camping outfit are awaiting the party at Red Deer, and are the same as used by Mr. Paradis on his Peace River expedition last year.—Calgary Herald.

The C. P. R. station at Winnipeg has accounted for 23,000 harvest hands that have come to the west this year.

Caron Enterprise: John Kirkland suffered the loss of several acres of his wheat crop by fire on Saturday, caused by a helper dropping a lighted match. Mr. Kirkland was in Caron at the time, but John H. Dickinson and his force of men who were working on the construction of a barn on Kirkland's farm, succeeded in getting the fire stopped after an half-hour's struggle.

Oskotea Review: The old anthracite mines in the mountains owned by P. Burns and J. Ricketts will be opened up again shortly with a staff of about thirty men to start with and do considerable development work. J. Aiello the contractor in charge of the work, and Mr. Jules Ricketts the mining engineer were out to the mine this week. Mr. Aiello is quite enthusiastic over the project and says it is one of the first bels of hard coal he ever saw.

The Frank Paper: The first burglary in the history of Frank, was committed some time Sunday night or Monday morning when the robbers broke into the bar room of the Imperial Hotel and secured about $25 from the cash register. Whoever turned the trick made a good job of it and departed without leaving a scrap of evidence for the police to work on, and there is nothing on which to base even a suspicion as to the identity of the perpetrators of the crime.

new bridge during the winter and the building of fifty miles of railway line northward by the C. N. R. next year will help to make things hum in Prince Albert. In addition to this there will be the work necessary to make this a divisional point. The bridge will cost $400,000 and will be constructed on the plans prepared a few years ago by the Dominion Government, which show a steel bridge on concrete foundation, with the railway track in the centre and roadways on either side.

Clareholm Review: Mayor Moffat and W. P. Teskey appeared before the Railway Commissioners at Calgary yesterday to appeal against the railway company's attempt to force the town to place its water supply pipes under their track at a point about nine hundred feet north of their present location. The railway company was represented by Superintendent R. R. Jameson and Solicitor B. B. Bennett, who after hearing the statements of our representatives before the commissioners, volunteered to withdraw their objections and agreed to allow the town of Clareholm to construct their waterworks piping across the railway's property as

Big Tournament

Three Matches in one Night—Berg vs. Blatchford, to a Finish, Sutter vs. Watson, and Downs vs. Jens Jensen

Jack Downs, the most industrious promoter of the classic and glorious sport of wrestling, has arranged a tournament of muscle and brain for Tuesday evening next which should give the box office man locomotor ataxia or paralysis of the index finger trying to take in the money.

There will be three big wrestling matches in one night, all for the price of one admission and if the matches are not concluded by breakfast time the spectators will be given a ticket for ham and eggs at the restaurant with a return coupon attached.

The matches are Blatchford vs. Young Berg, Sutter vs. Watson and Downs vs. Jensen.

The first one, of course, is the one that will attract most attention. All the boys have been watching Kenny Blatchford train and they are looking forward to the day when he will go up against a good match to see what he can do. Heretofore he has had the benefit of no one's experience but his own, and has always been in on handicap events when his particular part of the game was to play on the defensive. With this match it is different. He is in not only to keep the other fellow from winning but to win himself. He has had the benefit of a month's training under Jack Downs, the cleverest wrestler and best teacher in Alberta, and he has had a chance to learn lots of things that few men of his experience on the mat ever get to know. Young Berg is a worthy antagonist, and if Blatchford can throw him it is as good as saying that he is moving right up into the fast class without any intermediate stops. Downs is guaranteeing Berg his expenses up from Nanaimo, win or lose and he also hangs up a purse of $50 to go to the winner. Berg wants a chance to make a reputation for himself in this country and he is going on to win the match if it is in his anatomy to do it. Blatchford has ambitions also, and there is no doubt about it being a good match. It is right through to a finish, best two falls out of three and if it takes three or four hours for them to find out which is the better man, the audience gets that much more for its money.

The second match, between Sutter and Watson is of secondary interest. Sutter can give Watson a happy time for a while and he is improving rapidly under Downs' tutelage but no one doubts Watson's ability to dispose of him sooner or later. Watson, of course, has many admirers locally, especially among the baseball fraternity, and they will undoubtedly be long to see what happens and how the play comes up.

The fast and picturesque event of the evening will be the match between Jack Downs and Jens Jensen of Cardston. This will be the first event in which really fast wrestling has ever been seen in Edmonton. Jensen is one of the boys from the top class with an international reputation and in his own town of Cardston there is money hung up all the time waiting for anyone who wants to come along and take a piece of it. He is coming up to show the people in the north what the real thing in the wrestling game looks like and he and Downs will go on for an hour or two of the liveliest wrestling ever seen in Alberta. Downs is recognized as one of the cleverest wrestlers in Canada and this is the first time he has had an opportunity in Edmonton to show what he could do.

This range is even rather larger than seems necessary, but you'll like the extra room, since it takes less fuel and less fuss to do better baking. Oven lined with heavy asbestos to keep heat where it belongs; top, bottom and back uniformly thick.

This drop-oven door can't slam down nor get wobbly on hinges—patent check-spring stops that. Oven bottom is double—perforated-steel loose bottom over the real oven bottom: level surface, always. Way the fire door's built, and the special draft design, make this the most sensitive of ranges to control, easy to manage, sure to satisfy. Report of Commissioner Indicates Better Understanding at The City Hall

The following report submitted to council by the commissioners Tuesday night indicates that things are running along a little smoother since the new commissioner came on:

Sept. 18, 1906.

REPORT OF COMMISSIONERS.
A meeting of the commissioners, city solicitor and city engineer was held in the commissioner's office yesterday at 8 p.m. to discuss the re-organization of the commissioner's department and the various other departments of the city under their control, with a view to bringing them more thoroughly in touch with the commissioners and through them with the council.

It was decided that Clerk Collings now in the city clerk's office should be transferred to the commissioner's, his duties being to attend to the correspondence of the office, take the minutes of their meetings, and the meetings of the council, notify the different committees of their appointments and of the duties they are requested to perform, to tabulate and file reports and to attend to such other business as may arise.

It was further decided that to enable the commissioners to keep in close touch on the city expenditure that the ordering of all goods or supplies for any department of the city should be done by the commissioners upon presentation of requisitions signed by the head of the department.

It was also decided that as the reports from the different departments were not being made in a satisfactory or regular manner to permit of satisfactory conclusions being made therefrom the reports of the chief engineer of the power house, Supt. of electric light, Supt. of telephones, and the plumbing and building inspectors should be made to the city engineer and forwarded by him to the commissioners with his recommendations regarding the same.

It was decided that the city engineer should not plan or open up any new work without consulting the commissioners and that he should make regular reports of the progress of all work under his control.

It was decided that the commissioners should meet daily at the hour of 11 a.m. and that the engineer should attend when requested or when he had anything to discuss or lay before them.

For the expedition of business at council meetings we would suggest that the council refer all matters upon which they require further information direct to the commissioners and it would then become their duty to obtain written reports upon such subjects either from the solicitor, or from the city engineer or from any other subordinate official to collect and compile such reports in the most convenient manner for submission to the council.

All this is submitted as the consensus of opinion of the city solicitor, the city engineer and the commissioners after mature deliberation. In our opinion, will lead to a much better understanding between the council and its administrative bodies, resulting in a more complete utilization of the board of commissioners in accordance with the spirit of the city charter. We respectfully request the council's approval of these proposals.

STURGEON NOTES.

The farmers are happy. Another good harvest is nearly all in the stack or in the stack; threshing is almost on.

Mr. Chas. Carson is moving to his new house this week.

Rev. Cheyne is taking up the work formerly supplied by Rev. Richard and lives at Astleyville.

Rev. Connolly and family returned from a trip to the Landing and Edison, and Mr. Connolly took up his work last Sunday.

Strathcona.

Strathcona, Sept. 20.—About 8.30 yesterday evening the fire brigade had the second call this week.

A small outbreak had occurred in a liquor store belonging to Mr. Pare on Whyte avenue, but fortunately the fire was extinguished, and the services of firemen were not required.

Mr. Kent, a representative of the Canadian Electric Lighting Co., has arrived in town to superintend the installation of the new electric plant at the power station.

Manager Lines of the Brackman-Kemmill is attending the annual meeting of the company at Victoria.

The Strathcona school sports takes place on Friday, October 12. The pupils of the Grandin, Duggan and high schools will compete in about thirty events and a baseball match will also take place.

Mr. Ralph Weir left yesterday for Disbury to inspect a small loss by fire which occurred recently.

Sixty new pupils have been enrolled in schools here this term, which is a significant sign that Strathcona's population is rapidly increasing.

A new abattoir is being built by Messrs. Gainer & Co. on ground recently acquired by them east of Strathcona. The main building will be 40 by 100 feet; two stories high and full brick and concrete built basement.

The well-known firm of Messrs. Fraser Bros. have disposed of their feed mill at the corner of Hardisty street and Whyte avenue to Wm. Groat and Richard Fitzpatrick, who took possession on Monday. It is the intention of Fraser Bros. to confine their business exclusively to elevator building.

The Duggan street school, which has lately been splendidly equipped, finished and heated throughout with steam and modern system of ventilation, has now been completed. The water and sewerage system has also been installed and the whole work is a credit to the contractors, W. H. Martin & Co. of Strathcona.

Church Census

Church Workers Will Organize For the Purpose

A meeting will be held in the Baptist church, Edmonton on Wednesday evening next, September 27 at which two representatives of each church and denominational body in the city will send two delegates. The object of the meeting is to effect an organization to take a church census of the city. It is proposed to elect a central committee with full charge of the work who will receive the information classify it and give it to the various pastors in order to facilitate their pastoral duties. Workers from each congregation will be apportioned a certain part of the city and will obtain the names and church preference of all individuals resident in that particular section.

Such action has been taken by the churches in the cities of the east and has proved singularly helpful to church workers and has received the unstinted support of all classes. The city of Toronto completed a singular church census a few months ago.

EX-CHANCELLOR DEAD
X. Frederick, N.B., Sept. 18 — Dr. Thomas Harrison, ex-chancellor of the University of New Brunswick and an eminent educationist in eastern Canada died at a private hospital today. The deceased was twice married, his first wife being Susan Taylor of Sheffield, Sunbury County, by whom he leaves three children. Dr. Darley Harrison, and Arthur G. Harrison, both of Edmonton, and Mrs. Dixon of Birmingham. His second wife survives him.

Dr. Harrison and A. G. left Edmonton last week for Fredericton.

Now that the Canadian Pacific railway has opened up a city ticket office centrally located, the public will find it much more convenient to purchase tickets in Edmonton, thus avoiding the possibility of being hurried for time in attending to the checking of baggage in Strathcona. This applies to local as well as through business. Get your tickets at new C. P. R. offices.

Calgary Strike

Carpenters of the Southern City Are Out For Higher Pay

The carpenters of Calgary are on strike.

The strike has already begun and no work will be done today, as none of the employers in the city have signed the scale.

About 300 carpenters are affected, fully 90 per cent of the men being members of the union.

Two weeks ago the carpenters sent in a communication to the employers asking for 45 cents an hour. They desired a conference within two weeks to talk the matter over.

The two weeks closed last night. The employers' exchange sent a letter declining to take any action.

The men then had a meeting with the contractors who were not members of the builders' exchange.

The following is the official report of the meeting held last night.

On Monday night the committee of the joint carpenters' unions met the employers in Prof. Mason's hall to consider an advance in wages.

The employers deliberated for about an hour and a half and decided to refuse any advance.

A communication was also received from the builders' exchange declining to consider any advance.

A joint meeting of the carpenters was held immediately afterwards in Nolan's hall. It was an exceedingly crowded meeting and it was unanimously decided not to go to work Tuesday morning.

A correspondent calls attention to the fact that the figures quoted by The Alberta last week of the wages of carpenters only referred to wages up to last March. This is correct, and it is not represented that any other figures were quoted. That was the last complete, official list of wages of carpenters published by the Labor Gazette.

The Labor Gazette of August however refers to the following changes made in wages of carpenters since March.

Hamilton, from 32 1/2 to 35 cents per hour.

Woodstock, from 30 to 32 cents per hour.

Windsor, a change which increased the week's wages for 54 hours from $16.20 to $17.28.

Edmonton hours reduced from nine to eight hours per day, wages remaining unchanged at $3 per day.

Calgary hours reduced from nine to eight hours per day, wages increased from 35 to 40 cents per hour.

Vancouver wages increased from 40 to 43 3/4 cents per hour.

REFUSES CHECK.

At Tuesday night's council meeting a letter from Donald Ross was read, which is self explanatory to those who have been following the case and which is published for the richness of its lausorian language. It reads as follows:

Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 15, 1936.
To the Mayor and Council of the City of Edmonton, in council assembled:

I am in receipt of a communication from your finance committee enclosing a cheque for $100. "In consideration of the expense and inconvenience I have been put to, presumably from a misapprehension of the situation," also asking me to "kindly acknowledge receipt of same." In justice to my own conscience I cannot accept this cheque as a "consideration." It savors of lending myself as accessory to the conspiracy perpetrated against me in this matter.

The report in the press of an award of the council (although not all that I was entitled to) I would have accepted willingly and without the kick that most of my fellow rate-payers thought I was entitled to. I will now leave this matter in your hands for a more favorable communication to your victim. I return the cheque which may have served as a balm to the conscience of your commissioners in this matter, but will not serve my ideas of equity.

I am gentlemen your obedient servant,
DONALD ROSS.
